

SMOKING AND PETS

IT'S NOT JUST HUMANS WHO SUFFER BECAUSE OF SECOND-HAND SMOKE, OUR FURRY LOVED ONES DO TOO!

- Fluffy cuddly bunnies are more likely to have heart problems if their owner smokes.
- Fish can be unintentionally killed if their owner smokes in the home.
- Second-hand smoke has been associated with lung cancer in birds. Not much to chirp about here.

BTW

DOGS AND CATS ARE TWICE AS LIKELY TO GET CANCER FROM SECOND-PAW SMOKE

NOOO!!

THE TRUTH IS

Smoke also clings to their fur. They clean themselves by licking. So when you smoke around them they lick the smoke particles that are on their fur. Just like children, our pets have small lungs too. Second-paw smoke causes our furry friends to have breathing problems and potentially cancer - eek!

SMYGU AC ANIFEILIAID ANWES

NID POBL YN UNIG SY'N DIODDEF O FWG AIL-LAW – MAE EIN HANIFEILIAID ANWES YN DIODDEF HEFYD!

- Mae bwnis bach blewog yn fwy tebygol o gael problemau ar y galon os yw eu perchennog yn smygu.
- Gall pysgod gael eu lladd yn anfwriadol os yw eu perchennog yn smygu yn y cartref.
- Mae mwg ail-law wedi'i gysylltu â chanser yr ysgyfaint mewn adar. Dydi hynny ddim yn rhywbeth i ganu amdano.

GYDA LLAW

MAE CATHOD A CHŴN DWYWAITH YN FWY TEBYGOL O GAEL CANSER O FWG AIL-LAW.

NAAA!!

Y GWIRIONEDD

Mae mwg hefyd yn glynu wrth eu blew. Maen nhw'n glanhau eu hunain trwy lyfu. Felly pan rwyf ti'n smygu o'u cwmpas, maen nhw'n llyfu'r gronynnau mwg sydd ar eu blew. Fel plant, mae gan ein hanifeiliaid anwes ysgyfaint bach. Mae mwg ail-law yn achosi i'n ffrindiau blewog gael anawsterau anadlu, a chanser o bosibl. Na!
